YBL A PART OF GEN22

Driving workforce development - leaving a lasting legacy

GEN22 United by 2022 is dedicated to maintaining the legacy of Birmingham 2022 Commonwealth Games.

The Commonwealth Games brought people together, supported initiatives to improve health and well-being, acted as a catalyst for change and spurred the region on to continue to grow and succeed.

The purpose is to be a springboard for Birmingham and the West Midlands, and as an official charity of the Games United by 2022 Legacy Charity is a vehicle for these new opportunities.

They support community projects across the West Midlands to increase social value for the region.

This year YBL have been chosen to be a part of GEN22 United by 2022 Legacy Charity.

The funding that the YBL will receive will be focussed on building a sustainable workforce for basketball in the West Midlands and create Basketball

Ambassadors across the region who will be the role models for future generations.

new Coaches

We actually benefit thousands, as they can officiate at games, coach the next generation of players, as well as inspiring and driving the ambition of those that follow. Working in local clubs, communities and education being role models and sharing their knowledge. A lasting legacy for basketball.

The funding will also allow us to mentor and develop following the completion of the courses. Utilising support chat, groups to help each other, building their own peer network. Throughout their journey they will be connected to us and their peers to ensure they get the right level of support at the right time.

By listening to our learners and using their feedback to influence and shape course content includes live games, so our learners leave knowing they can manage their role. Giving them confidence in their own knowledge and ability is huge.

We will celebrate these Young Basketball Leaders at our YBL Championships.

If you are aged 16-24 (over 18 for Coaching course) and interested in being part of this amazing opportunity please email courses@ybl.org.uk
